

Amendment to the Abstract:

Delete the abstract currently on file and insert the following:

Suitable fragmentation sites are identified in a reporter protein by providing a DNA sequence encoding for the reporter protein, creating a library based on the sequence, screening for restoration of activity of the protein and identifying subdomains and/or subsequences that lead to restoration of activity of the protein.